MEMORANDUM FOR: Chief, Assessment & Evaluation Staff

Jake:

Thanks very much. I found these quite interesting.

I would note, however, that with one notable exception most of these appear to have been written for internal consumption within your own staff. The notable exception is the rather fascinating and delightfully written "Personality Stereotypes of DDI and DDP Personnel". If all your studies were as readable as that one, I'll bet you could get lots of knocks on the door for these reports.

I had a lengthy, and I trust constructive, chat with [redacted] on the possibility of your developing some guidelines for the selection of CT's. I'll be most interested in following through on this.
